MARK BOMCHILL, FORMER ABORTION AGITATOR

Mark is a former abortion clinic guard who believed that unborn children weren't even human. He was head of security at an abortion clinic in St. Paul's and his job was to prevent pro-life intervention with the clinic's clients.

His tactics were often aggressive and dangerous, because, as Mark said "If the women changed their mind that would mean a loss of business." He began to doubt his beliefs when he carried the body of an aborted baby for disposal, its mouth open from screaming. Now, he counsels women outside the same clinic in an effort to save them and their children from abortion. He reveals the seedy and brutal truth inside the abortion industry.

GIANNA JESSEN, ABORTION SURVIVOR

"I should be blind, I should be burned, I should be dead. I was aborted but I did not die."

Gianna Jessen was a 7-month-old unborn baby when her mother underwent a saline abortion. Gianna was left burning inside her womb for 18 hours. The saline solution was meant to kill her, but she did not die. She was delivered alive and saved by a nurse who took pity on her.

Because of the abortion, Gianna was diagnosed with Cerebral Palsy. Through sheer perseverance, and support from her adoptive family, she took her first step when she was four. Now Gianna travels the world, telling her incredible story. She has appeared on ABC, NBC and, this month, is coming to this college to speak to you.
